

A Trusted Champion

On Issues that Matter to YOU

Opportunity for All: “Thriving small businesses, economic development, and job creation are vitally important to helping people find a way out of poverty and giving them a chance to live safe, dignified, productive, and creative lives. Leon County must focus on attracting businesses that have the greatest willingness and ability to pay living wages.”

Reducing Crime and Gun Violence: “I see our issues with crime and gun violence as a symptom of people feeling disconnected and disenfranchised from each other and from the community at large. Public safety is extremely important and will be a cornerstone of my work as a Commissioner, but locking people up for issues that could have been addressed by prevention programs is a failure for our community.”

Growth Management: “Smart development is the key to balancing our county’s natural beauty with the needs of our growing population. I support individual property rights, however, we must also be forward-thinkers who consider what’s in the County’s best interest today and 30 years into the future. It’s local government’s obligation to protect our natural resources for generations to come.”

Transparency and Access: “County Commissioners work for the people of Leon County. I believe our overarching responsibility is to be laser-focused on making sure that the people can be heard.”

Healthcare: “I support increasing funding for, and streamlining, the county’s Primary Healthcare Program. Not only does the program run out of money each year, but the paperwork is burdensome and I would like to see if there’s a way to make that less complicated.”

Elder Care: “Addressing the lack of affordable assisted living and nursing home facilities in our area is critical. I witnessed my father, a hardworking, caring, and strong man being passed back and forth from hospital to rehab hospitals because of the lack of affordable assisted living and nursing home facilities in our area.”
